Technique

No one starts playing pans because they want play scales. However, learning scales will help you find your way around your instrument, refine your touch, and is the building blocks for music so try to make it fun! Use the online tutorial to play with and test your speed! All major scales on the tenor steel drum can be played with one sticking, or it's inverse. Do your best to follow the R and L stickings on this scale. The G in the left hand might seem strange, but it keeps you from play 3 in a row on the right.
